

KEY SKILLS

EVERY TECH LEADER SHOULD IMPROVE ON

emanate
TECHNOLOGY

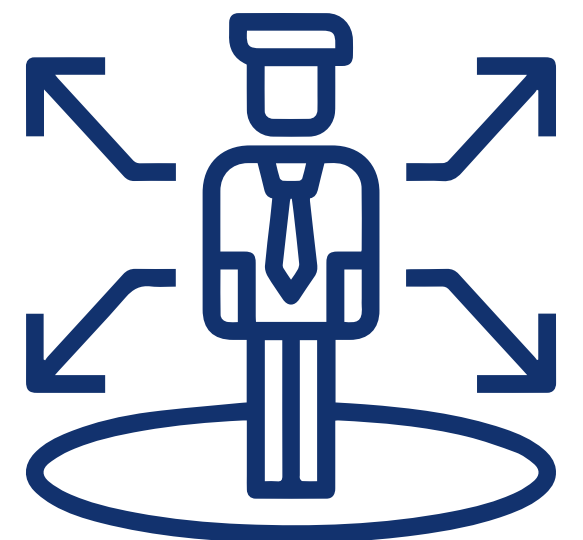

Communication and Motivation

A capable team lead should be able to identify the gaps in their team that need improvement and be able to communicate this to their team in a way that raises morale.

Decisiveness

Indecisiveness can be a costly mistake within tech teams, especially when the entire organisation may be impacted. Learn to make quick and well-informed decisions and see them through to the end.

Delegation

A good leader will know how to spread out tasks across their team in an equal manner that capitalises on each person's strengths. This ensures everyone is doing their part and is not overloaded with tasks.

