

4 Ways to Optimise an Automation Strategy
for Your Tech Team

Identify Opportunities

Get feedback from your team as to where automation can make the biggest impact in their processes.

List Out Priorities

Once you've gathered enough feedback from IT practitioners in your team, create a priority slider to put your plan into action.

Practice Transparency

Once you've begun automating procedures, communicate with your team about what's worked so far to help them get used to the transition.

Measure Results

Keep track of the strategy outcomes so you're aware of your progress and what needs to be refined or revisited.
