Level Up Your Tech Teams

3 Talent Management Strategies

Redeploy

When a team member already possesses the essential skills needed for another role, they can be redeployed to take on that new role.

Reskill

If someone is needed to fill in a new or constantly evolving role, they will need to develop a completely new set of skills to be able to manage tasks under that role.

Upskill

When a team member is looking to enhance their current skills and build a higher level of competency to be able to perform better in their current role.
